

TV Catchphrases Quiz Round 2

Who Said That

Who said during their frosty relationship "You know nothing Jon Snow"

Ygritte

Which Scottish duo often said Fan-Dabby-Dozy?

The Krankies

"Ooh I could crush a grape" was a phrase used by this Crackerjack presenter.

Stu Francis

The phrase "Just the facts ma'am" was said by Officer Joe Friday in the tv show Dragnet. True or False.

False - it was created by a spoof record at the time and falsely attributed later.

Who was the first to use "it's good, but it's not right" on this popular game show.

Roy Walker

Fondly remembered for its 'Star' prize of a speed boat, this shows host would say "Let's see what you could have won". Name the host.

Jim Bowen

Probably responsible for more catchphrases than any other entertainer, one of which was "Good game, good game"

Bruce Forsyth

Which character says "Yeah but no but yeah but".

Vicky Pollard

Often said by parish councillor Jim Trott "No no no no no ..yes" comes from which comedy series?

TV Catchphrases Quiz Round 2

Published on Pub Quiz Questions HQ (<http://pubquizquestionshq.com>)

---

Vicar of Dibley

This character from the Fast Show would usually end his sketch with the phrase "Which was nice". What is the character called?

Patrick Nice