

True or False Quiz (Round 11)

2023 True or False Quiz Questions

Below are a series of statements and all you have to do is decide whether they are true or false, good luck!

- 1) Whoopi Goldberg before becoming a famous film actress worked as a morgue beautician.
- 2) The architectural term Purlin refers to dressed stones at the corner of buildings.
- 3) 'Sunday Afternoon on the Island of the Grande Jatte' is a famous painting by Claude Monet.
- 4) Phobos is one of the two moons of Mars.
- 5) Girton College is part of the University of Oxford.
- 6) Alexander the Great died from complications after falling from his elephant.
- 7) The first name of golfer Tiger Woods is actually Eldrick.
- 8) Dr John Pemberton was the inventor of Coca Cola back in 1886.

Answers

- 1) Whoopi Goldberg before becoming a famous film actress worked as a morgue beautician.

True

- 2) The architectural term Purlin refers to dressed stones at the corner of buildings.

False (it is a horizontal beam along the length of a roof)

True or False Quiz (Round 11)

Published on Pub Quiz Questions HQ (<http://pubquizquestionshq.com>)

3) 'Sunday Afternoon on the Island of the Grande Jatte' is a famous painting by Claude Monet.

False (Georges Pierre Seurat)

4) Phobos is one of the two moons of Mars.

True

5) Girton College is part of the University of Oxford.

False (Cambridge)

6) Alexander the Great died from complications after falling from his elephant.

False (Ate and drank himself to death)

7) The first name of golfer Tiger Woods is actually Eldrick.

True

8) Dr John Pemberton was the inventor of Coca Cola back in 1886.

True